

ELEMENTARY LANGUAGE ARTS

(Writing, Grammar, Literature)

Grades 3 to 5

Course Structure

Students in grades 3 to 5 are invited to join me as we learn to write outlines, paragraphs, stories and essays using Institute for Excellence in Writing's (IEW) All Things Fun and Fascinating. I love teaching IEW and believe that this system provides the structure that students need to develop confidence in the writing process, while gradually guiding them toward greater independence and creativity. All Things Fun and Fascinating goes at a simpler, slower pace than typical IEW coursework, making it perfect for younger writers.

We will alternate writing with literature, going every other week with both.

Our literature study will include reading Stuart Little, Homer Price, The Boxcar Children, The Railway Children, and Mr. Popper's Penguins. Students will do the majority of their reading at home and spend class time discussing, analyzing, and doing fun activities related to the books.

Each week we will also study grammar together using IEW's Fix it! Grammar curriculum.

Textbooks

For Writing: I will provide a student book, "All Things Fun and Fascinating: Writing Lessons in Structure and Style" by Lori Verstegen. This book has lessons geared towards homeschoolers that meet weekly, giving clear assignments and activities to be completed in class and at home. We will work through one lesson every other week during class time and students will be expected to complete the accompanying writing assignment at home during the week, turning in their work to me the following week. I will grade and give feedback on writing assignments but typically one on one time isn't possible in this kind of class setting. Parents are expected to work with their student throughout the week and edit the student's rough drafts.

For Literature and Grammar: Parents will need to purchase or check out from the library the children's books listed above. I will provide student worksheets and activity packets as well as grammar papers.
