Introduction to Accounting explores the field of accounting, covering the process of recording, analyzing, classifying, summarizing, and communicating accounting information. This class has an emphasis on conceptual understanding while encouraging and providing students with the opportunity to learn how to analyze financial statements, apply accounting concepts to real-world situations, and make informed business decisions.

Math anxiety? RELAX . . . all we will do is add, subtract, multiply, and divide. Accounting is about a PROCESS. We start with learning the language of accounting and build from there.

Meet the Tutor:

Julie Renzema graduated from WMU with a B.S. in Occupational Therapy. Helping people to succeed in their activities of daily living has always been important to Mrs. Renzema.

She never expected to need to know business finance and basic accounting principles with her vocation choice. But God placed various opportunities over the years in her path in order to develop these skills. From having her own business to volunteering for several local organizations where a basic knowledge of business finance and accounting allowed her to be able to serve her family and others.

Many students start out earning money with their own business, whether it be babysitting or mowing lawns. Having an understanding of basic business finance and accounting will help them to succeed in their own endeavors and introduce them to potential long term career opportunities.
