A Little About Me:

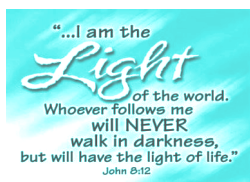

Greetings!

My name is Amber Salo and I am a homeschool mom to four amazing girls and "fur mom" to two rambunctious dogs. My husband and I will be celebrating our 21st Anniversary this year and we live in a cedar house nestled in the woods frequented by woodland animals. We enjoy camping, playing games, and listening to music together. My family has been part of the homeschooling community for the past seven years and I am excited to be able to invest time into the littlest of our community through my class, "Little Rays of Light."

I am passionate about leading others on the journey to find Jesus, inspire them to love Him and live for Him, and shine His light for others to see. This desire led me to nicknaming myself "Sunshine" as a young child and compelled me to pursue a teaching career where I have had countless opportunities to instill the intrinsic worth of each person within my classes.

I have had the privilege of teaching children of various ages within the public school setting, at co-ops, at childcares, and within churches in Indiana and Michigan. I bring with me a degree in Elementary Education with endorsements in Early Childhood, Integrated Creative Arts, Mathematics, and Science. I love making learning academics fun and emphasizing the development of the whole child including voice, listening skills, socialization, and character development. I can't wait to meet your little one and share the adventurous journey together discovering God's greatness.

Class Overview:

This will be the second year that I have the privilege of teaching this class and I am so excited! I am calling it "Version 2.0" because I truly feel that there is so much to learn from the Bible and in academics that one year just isn't enough time to fit it all in.

This class is designed to focus on the development of the heart, the spirit, and the mind so that children will be better equipped "for every good work." It will provide the students with opportunities to problem solve, to collaborate, and to learn academic studies in a fun environment. It will also encourage students to memorize scripture, retell Bible stories, build a passion for the Lord, freely demonstrate their love for Him, and inspire them to share God's light with others as the song clearly states, "This little light of mine, I'm going to let it shine."

What will we do?

- "Hide God's Word in our heart" by memorizing scripture and using choreographed motions.
- "Make a joyful noise" to the Lord by singing praises, dancing, and utilizing instruments.
- Read the Bible and other stories and practice good character traits.
- Learn colors, shapes, numbers, and lowercase letters through crafts and interactive activities.
- Play games and engage in large and fine motor activities.
- Build friendships through playtime and foster personal growth through usage of voice, listening skills, and character development.
