

Historical Girls Book Club

Tutor: Sarah Daisy Lindmark

Ages: 8-12 Hour: 3rd (11:20-12:40pm) Email: SarahDaisyArtWorld@gmail.com

Course Description

Join us in Historical Girls Book Club to meet new friends, read and discuss a variety of books about amazing girls from history, create many special art projects and crafts, celebrate together with reading and holiday parties, and grow through friendship building activities and games. Through the eyes and words of author Laura Ingalls Wilder (Little House on the Prairie) and various American Girl authors, we'll learn about how 9-12 year old girls lived, or may have lived, during different time periods here in America. The stories we read and study will serve as strong 'memory pegs' that help build a student's foundational timeline of America's past. They will learn history in a memorable and very fun way together with friends!

Throughout the year, we'll also create a chronological lap book containing an abundance of historical facts, photographs/illustrations, and interesting information.

I hope your daughter will join us in this amazing class as we explore historical literature together, grow in communication and knowledge, and nurture sweet friendships!

Meet the Tutor

Sarah Daisy Lindmark has homeschooled her daughters for 12+ years, and this will be her 11th year teaching classes here at Lighthouse. She has a BA in K-12 Art Education with an emphasis in Photojournalism and Special Education from The University of Montana. She loves to take photographs of most anything, go camping with her family, design and create new art projects, treasure hunt at thrift stores, play the African djembe drum, and drink good coffee.

And, all of these things are best done along side her sweet tiny dog, Violet.
