

LITTLE SPROUTS PRESCHOOL

• Tutor: Sari Wright • 2nd Period: 9:55–11:15 • Ages: 3–5 years • Email: sarilwright@gmail.com

Little Sprouts is a play-based preschool class for 3–5-year-olds that nurtures creativity, curiosity, early literacy, and joyful exploration in a Christ-centered environment. Children are gently introduced to foundational concepts in early literacy, math, and science in ways that feel natural and engaging. Story time and language-rich activities support letter recognition, vocabulary development, and a love of books, while playful counting, sorting, and patterning activities build early math awareness. Hands-on exploration—such as observing nature, experimenting with simple materials, and asking questions—encourages early scientific thinking and curiosity about the world around them, while also developing fine motor skills, coordination, and problem-solving abilities. Through guided activities and creative play, children build confidence, independence, and social skills as they learn to collaborate, share, and engage in a supportive classroom community.

Understanding God's World

Meet the Tutor:

I'm a homeschool mom to four children (ages 12, 10, 7, and 3) with a lifelong passion for teaching and learning through play. I've been teaching in various capacities throughout my life, and it's something that continues to bring me deep joy and purpose. I studied both music and educational methods in college, which laid a strong foundation for the work I do now. I incorporate Charlotte Mason's gentle, literature-rich philosophy into our homeschool, encouraging curiosity, creativity, and a love of learning. In addition to homeschooling, I've spent the past several years coaching gymnastics for toddlers and early elementary-aged kids, gaining hands-on experience in guiding young learners through movement and play-based activities. This will be my fourth year teaching at REACh and I'm so excited for what God has in store!
