Geography & World History

How the Earth works, and all the people who have lived on it.

ABOUT THIS CLASS

When people hear the word "geography" they often picture nothing but old maps and charts. In reality, geography is one of the most exciting aspects of social studies because it encompasses so many different areas of study, including science, geology, history, politics, culture, and religion. In this class, we put the maps aside and let the wonders of creation take center stage as we explore the earth and the people who live on it. We will leave no rock unturned as we look at a wide variety of cultures, places, times, and discover how where people lived shaped who people were. We will take a deep dive into the history of the world to see how the people who lived here before us shaped the lives that we live today.
