Each week we will gather at the our hive where we will keep our minds and bodies busy with group activities, small and large motor activities to burn off some of our natural energy. We will also explore God's creation and express our creativeness through simple arts and crafts.

Mrs. Rogers has learned from homeschooling her own kiddos and through her teaching experiences that kids LOVE games. Games are a great way to teach beginning problem solving skills, how to be a good sport, and how to be a true friend.

We will play both fun and educational games while exploring how God's Fruits of the Spirit can be expressed in our thoughts and actions.

Meet the tutor:

Hi My name is Jaime Rogers. I'm a homeschool mom to four amazing girls whom I've had the privilege of homeschooling for the past 6 years. I'm married to my best friend of 21 years. When I'm not doing laundry or homeschooling I love hanging out with family, listening to worship music, drinking coffee and watching movies. My husband and I made a choice a few years ago to move from a residential neighborhood to the country. Since then I have found that being surrounded by God's amazing creation has led our homeschooling to be more adventurous and exploratory. We've used the discovery of color, symmetry, and variety amongst other things to encourage and enhance the content our various academic subjects in our home classroom.

I hope to share that same wonder and beauty God has placed all around us to encourage and enhance your student's academic exploration in my classroom.
